Subject: Microsoft Settlement'

The settlement as proposed does not punish Microsoft enough for the crimes they have and continue to commit. Most of what I have read seems to be an attempt to stop Microsoft's future activities and yet they continue even now to abuse their monopoly power using new tactics. My greatest concern is Microsoft's forays into the media. They are attempting to buy public opinion even after they have been found guilty in court. Don't let Microsoft become the "corporate O.J." Put some teeth into the settlement.
